With Easter arriving in a few weeks time I wonder if it is safe to say we managed to escape the snow and ice this year. Hooray!

Spring is looking promising and we have a few surprises and projects for you to get stuck into should you feel inclined.

Join us on an Easter Egg Hunt within the following pages and count how many Eggs (similar to the one pictured above) can be found in this month's magazine. Send us your answer and the winner will be chosen from those with the correct number. The prize is a FREE family day-pass to East Riddlesden Hall! Email us on mail@worthvalleymag.co.uk

Preparations for the Tour de France Grand Depart and the various community projects associated with it are also hotting up. The Aire Valley is a hive of activity. Enjoy April.

WARNING: INSURERS CAN SERIOUSLY DAMAGE YOUR WEALTH

If you have been involved in an accident that wasn't your fault you may be contacted by insurers inviting you to settle your claim without getting legal advice.

If this happens it is vital you contact us immediately.

An offer from an insurer will be an attempt to settle with you as cheaply as possible for them. They know this is professional misconduct and they know it breaks court rules - but they keep on doing it anyway!

Independent research shows that Solicitors obtain almost twice as much on average than insurers offer directly.

At O'Neill Injury Solicitors we have more than 20 years experience in dealing with personal injury claims and we want you to get the amount you are entitled to - not what the insurers think they can get away with.

We cover Keighley and Skipton and surrounding areas. We would be delighted to see you at home, for free, to advise you on any aspect of bringing a personal injury claim to make sure you are properly compensated.

Help us to help you to get your rightful compensation.

Say you saw it in the Aire Valley Mag!

Handmade Peanut butter Easter Eggs

Yup – the easter bunny overdosed on peanut butter, and this is what happened:

1. Melt 200g white choc buttons and paint thickly over inside of moulds. Refrigerate until set (10 mins) and then repeat with a second layer, especially around the top. (or you can skip this bit and buy unfilled easter eggs and carefully separate each half).

2. Mash up 1 tablespoon (tbsp.) brown sugar, 5 tbsp icing sugar, 2 tbsp butter (melted) and 4 tbsp peanut butter for the filling

3. Gently take the chocolate cases out of the moulds, and carefully squidge the filling into each one, leaving space for a chocolate caramel egg, or a mini egg, or a chilli, or anything else you like.

4. Sandwich together, and decorate.

Damside Mill

Contemporary international artists & designers from the Worth Valley Le Grand Depart 100 day cultural festival is in full swing around Yorkshire, and Damside Mill will present a special exhibition of contemporary artists with international reputations who are based in or have a connection with the Worth Valley.

From Thursday 16 April, the Damside Gallery will show new works by sculptor Sam Shendi (Royal British Sculptor Society winner 2013/4), painter Judy Sale, and photo artist Jo Holland.
 Gallery owner Anthony Hartley said, "The Worth Valley has a long history of creativity in manufacturing, design and art. We are proud to be a continuing part of this, and to offer at Damside a new space for a more contemporary creative perspective than the traditional art and crafts often associated with the area."
The exhibition will be open from 16 April, Thursday to Sunday, 10am – 4.30pm until July 6.

COUNTRY COOKING & FORAGING FOR FOOD

For the promotion of Health & Wellbeing by Cath Bromwich

Versatile weeds and paradigm shifts

Dandelions are weeds...and edible! It is similarly mind blowing that nettles are stingy...and edible! It is time to think on these things as we have again entered the busy 'spring greens' foraging season.

There are already some lovely fat dandelion flowers happily bobbing about in the breeze. Find some kids and head off for a walk.

I go above Silsden to fields just below the moorland. I pick as many dandelion flower heads as my child labour are willing to and return home to stew up these unsung wonders of the foragers' arsenal.

Another surprising point about these flowers is that they bring flavours into our British pallet which are more commonly associated with exotic delicacies, producing a delicious nutty, vanilla flavour. Other wild plants also do this. It is interesting that some flavours that are brought from so far can be reproduced here with a smaller environmental footprint.

However 'foreign' these tastes seem many remember a time that 'Dandelion and Burdock' was a common drink and you will recognise the distinct flavours in the dandelion flower syrup recipe below (from my most used and loved foraging book 'Seaweed and eat it'). Also during the Second World War people made a substitute coffee out of dandelion roots and the leaves are very good in a salad and served as 'mountain greens' abroad.

Dandelion syrup adds flavour and sweetness to baklava or cake, can be used as a drink or on ices (see my facebook for the baklava recipe).

Take care about where you pick these delicacies from as 'oh du dog doo' is not good, also dandelion has substances in that are not great for people with kidney issues so avoid if that is an issue.

Additionally: I'll be on TV doing some foraging soon I'll keep you posted. 'Lilies' in Keighley and I have started a cookery club for budget cookery be in touch if interested to take part & volunteer. Also I've competition for a logo for 'foragercath' do be in touch if interested. Happy cooking!!

Top Tip: Don't be put off by the smell that heating the flower heads makes, this will be transformed into a wonderful nutty aroma.

Cath Bromwich, a Silsden resident, is a cookery teacher and forager. Her livelihood includes foraging, general and health-related cookery such budget cooking and cooking for diabetes. She trained at Ballemaloe Cookery School, Ireland. For more information, or to pass on your stories and recipes, contact Cath at www.facebook.com/foragercathyorkshire

Dandelion Syrup Recipe

from Seaweed and eat it a family foraging and cooking adventure. By Fiona Houston and Xa Milne

4 Cups of dandelion flower heads

1.1 1/3 pints of water

1.2 900g/ 2LB sugar

1/2 Lemon or orange chopped into pieces

Put the dandelion flowers in a large saucepan and add the water.

Bring just to the boil, turn off heat, cover and leave overnight.

Strain and press liquid out of spent flowers. Discard the flowers and retain the liquid.

Add sugar to the flower liquid and the chopped fruit and heat slowly, gently stirring frequently.

Do this until the liquid is reduced and you have a thick honey-like syrup.

Wipe up spills immediately. Store in the fridge in a clean sealed jar.

Fenetic Wellbeing

Close friends since school, Tom Appelbee and Graeme Firth, now run Fenetic Wellbeing – a local company that sells quality mobility and healthcare products, such as wheelchairs and riser chairs, at discount rates.

In 2013 Fenetic won Keighley Business of the Year Award, as well as Entrepreneurs of the Year and the Special Recognition award.

If you are intrigued by the unusually spelled company name, that's because Tom is dyslexic and has always had trouble spelling. So when it came to naming the business Tom took inspiration from his days in special classes at school where they would tell him to concentrate on spelling everything PHONETICALLY.

Tom said: "Graeme and I worked together at a healthcare company but were made redundant in 2009 and saw an opportunity to set up on our own.

"Alistair Firth joined us in 2011, and in 2012 Natalie Fillingham joined the team and she successfully organises the chaos that goes on around her."

Tom says that price is paramount and they will not over charge customers or seek to take advantage of people who are in a vulnerable position.

"At heart, we are Yorkshire people who value our work ethic, good customer service and honesty.

"We do not extort the elderly or people with mobility issues. Some companies may charge such low prices that there is almost no margin for customer service or back up. But Fenetic Wellbeing delivers fair prices, with a strong after-care policy on all products supplied."

Manorlands
Hospice

The Bronte Vintage Gathering

The Bronte Vintage Gathering (BVG) was held for the first time back in 1998. It started out as a rally for enthusiasts to attend and exhibit their vintage and steam engines and vehicles. Although this is still very much part of the BVG, the event has become more of a country show with a wide variety of attractions, making it a great day out for all the family.

The BVG is organised by a volunteer Committee who in the past 16 years have raised over £310,000 for Sue Ryder – Manorlands Hospice in Oxenhope.

This year's event will include Jez Avery – Bike Stunt Legend and all round Showman, supported by Pendle Dog Agility, and SMJ Falconry, who will all be performing in the main area to entertain the crowds.

Other attractions include a Fairground, RAF Flypast, Bunton's Digger Driving Experience, Bouncy Castles and Slides, Blackpool Donkey Rides, 'Old Spot' Real Ale Beer Tent, Food Stands, Craft Marquee, Trade Stands Clay Pigeon Shooting, and Autojumble Fair.

There will also be hundreds of exhibitors displaying their Vintage Cars, Commercial and Military Vehicles, Motorcycles, Stationary Engines, Tractors, Street Organs, plus Miniature and Full Sized Steamers.

On Saturday night, entry to the showground is free of charge and two bands – 'Night Patrol' and 'Pog Mo Thoin' will perform in the Beer Tent.

Introducing the Distributors

With the support of their parents and occasionally, their younger sister, this family team are responsible for delivering your mags to you. All three are pupils at Ermosteds Grammar School in Skipton.

James has been involved with scouts for 11 years and is now a Young Leader, helping at a Cub pack in Riddlesden.

He has achieved both his Bronze and Silver Duke of Edinburgh Awards and is now working towards his Gold Award.

He hopes to study Biochemistry at University. Robert is also a Young Leader with scouts and helps at a Beaver colony in Riddlesden.

Next summer, he hopes to take part in an expedition to Tanzania where he will be involved in a project to improve the lives of a local community and trekking through a large nature reserve. To take part in this expedition, he has to raise £3,500. His distributors pay is going towards this target.

He has achieved his Bronze Duke of Edinburgh award and has nearly completed his Silver. David is also involved in the Scouting movement and has attended Scout camps across Yorkshire and the UK.

He does appreciate all the garden ornaments though. We are lucky to have such a family working with us and please say 'Hello' if you see them out distributing the mags.

fields of vision

A competition is launched to find 'Yorkshire symbol' for huge land art project, as Keelham Farm Shop backs Yorkshire Festival's 'Fields of Vision'

Fields of Vision, an idea put forward by the Worth Valley Young Farmers Club, is being delivered in a bespoke partnership co-ordinated by the rural regeneration specialists, Pennine Prospects, and involves a number of local artists as well as local arts festivals and community groups throughout the county. The project will see a series of huge field-scale land art installations, visible by land and sky forming the backdrop of day two of the Tour de France Grand Départ.

Until now, the project partners have been working exclusively with commissioned artists to create the designs but with Keelham on board and a spare field in need of an original design, the team decided to launch a competition open to anyone with a good idea. Entrants must draw a simple, bold design which, to them, symbolises Yorkshire. A winner will be selected by a panel of judges including Victoria Robertshaw, co-owner of Keelham Farm Shop; Andrew Wood, club leader of the Worth Valley Young Farmers' Club; Elizabeth Barker from local community group Worth the Tour; Geoff Wood from public art consultancy, Working pArts; and Ian Thompson from design agency, Thompson Brand Partners. The winning entry will be interpreted on the site by the Fields of Vision team to create a vast and vibrant grass-roots installation.

Comments Victoria Robertshaw, co-owner of Keelham Farm Shop: "At Keelham we love Yorkshire and farming is our lifeblood, so we are really excited to support one of the sites in the Field of Visions project."

The field - located in Hainworth, in Keighley, Worth Valley - can be viewed from the Sue Belcher Community Centre where local people are now sowing seeds for a new community garden which will be the best viewing spot from which to admire the stunning land art below.

To advertise call Karen or Liz on 01535 642227

Adds Victoria: "We're delighted also to help the local community garden to get off the ground, by donating bulbs, seeds and pots. The project team will be working with local schools and students will be encouraged to grow coloured turf which will be planted at the centre to help mark the viewing spot."

To enter go to www.keelhamfarmshop.co.uk and download an entry form which can be posted back to Keelham Farm Shop, Brighouse and Denholme Road, Thornton, Bradford, BD13 3SS or emailed to help@keelhamfarmshop.co.uk. The closing date for entries is midnight April 22nd, 2014. The winner will be announced on the Keelham website and in the Keelham Shop on Friday 9th May 2014 and the art work will be completed in the field to view early June 2014.

(The Hainworth site is also supported by the generosity of Alfie's Restaurant in Keighley.)

Collaborative Craven Parish Councils

Silsden Mayor Chris Atkinson

The Tour De France will see its Grand Depart pass through our areas on Saturday 5th and Sunday 6th July. This is the world's biggest one day sporting event and is expected to attract approximately 4 million visitors.

This is both a once in a lifetime opportunity and a major potential disruption for the weekend. In order to make the best of this event Addingham, Silsden and Steeton with Eastburn parish councils have been working closely together to ensure they are ready for the event.

Mayor of Silsden Chris Atkinson has been impressed by the number of people who have come together to help prepare the town for the Tour.

"A group of at least 20 people have formed a committee to coordinate various activities in Silsden with the Churches together promoting the knitting of small yellow Jerseys which will be hung as bunting for the Tour but afterwards will be sent to Africa for new born babies to wear. Other projects that are being considered include a treasure hunt made up of bicycles which will be open to everyone including businesses."

Catherine Coates Chair of Addingham Parish Council

Silsden Mayor Chris Atkinson with Steeton with Eastburn Parish Chair David Mullen

Addingham and Silsden have also been working with Bradford Council to identify additional car parking space; places for additional toilets and potential camp sites. It is important that we ensure that disruption is kept to a minimum."

Catherine Coates Chair of Addingham Parish Council has also been heavily involved in the planning activity. "The idea has really gripped the village and we have already held a number of meetings which have been attended by over 160 people all keen to know more. The coordinating group has brought together the council; residents and businesses to help plan the event. We have already had the BBC's Inside Out programme filming in the village and we expect the interest to grow as we get closer to the event. We have already seen a real interest in some of the merchandise that businesses in the village have been selling."

David Mullen Chair of Steeton with Eastburn Parish Council has also seen a surge of interest. "We recently hosted a meeting with Welcome to Yorkshire which allowed people to see the size of the event. Its not just about the 200 hundred cyclists the actual event will last for hours with the race itself preceded by a "caravan" of sponsors vehicles giving a whole range of gifts to the spectators. We are lucky to have a time trial on the bypass between Silsden and Steeton roundabout and Keighley. We expect this to be very popular with part of the bypass being turned into a car park and viewing area.

However, this could also mean that the bypass is closed on the Saturday night to allow all the timing gantries to be erected."

The Tour is coming and Addingham, Silsden and Steeton with Eastburn are preparing to make the most of the opportunity as well as preparing for the inevitable disruption that it will bring. The Tour will not return to Yorkshire in our life time so this is a unique opportunity. Anyone wishing to know more should look at the following websites:

LE BIKE FESTIVAL, Silsden

As part of the arrangements to celebrate the Tour de France visiting Yorkshire, Silsden Methodist Church is organising "Le Bike Festival", the main theme of which will involve a series of Decorated Bikes, created by a number of local and church groups, being displayed in and around the Church. We invite everyone to come and view the display, to walk the spiritual Cycle Way, to watch the race on the big screen and to join us for refreshments and fellowship. The race will come right past the front of the church on Sunday 6th July but the festival will run from 28th June through to 6th July.

TOP TECH TIPS by Michelle Thompson at CloudFree IT

Adios XP! Looking forward, not back.

Plenty of dates in the next few months are going to be important for one reason or another. End of the football season in May (C'mon Liverpool!), 20th World Cup in June, the Tour de France Grand Depart in July. Lots to look forward to. There's one date of particular importance coming up much sooner though... 8th April 2014.

If you're a Windows XP user, take note. 8th April is when Microsoft finally pulls the plug. No more support or updates. A shock? Where have you been for the last few years? Thinking 'Cripes! How will this affect me?'. Read on...

Q. Why end support of a popular and stable product? A. It's business. New cars wouldn't sell, if old ones were safer. Same with computers. Businesses cling on to legacy products for too long, thinking it will save them money. It rarely does, because productivity is hindered. There's been 3 new versions of Windows since XP. OK, so one of them (Vista) was 'something of a let-down', shall we say, but technology has moved on. A lot. The new Microsoft products are designed to work well together. If you want Office 2013 you need Windows 7 or 8. If you want to get the best out of Microsoft's cloud-based Office 365 you really need Office 2013 (although it will work OK with 2010 and some functionality will work if you use Office 2007). If you're unwilling to try new things, you won't know what you're missing!

Q. But if I don't want to (or can't really afford to) upgrade to a newer version of Windows, will XP just stop working on 8th April? A. No! XP will still work. You just won't get any new Windows updates to fix security issues or any help from Microsoft. Most anti-virus providers will continue to release updates for their XP-compatible products for a little while longer (maybe a few months, maybe a year, but definitely not forever). You may have to download these manually. You're bound to forget at least once, leaving your computer vulnerable.

Q. Will my XP computer get hacked? A. Maybe. Stick to well-known trusted secure websites. You'll be less likely to encounter malware, which is, typically, the way hackers go about getting onto your computer these days, but there's no guarantees. Better to upgrade or replace your PC, or disconnect it from the internet permanently. If you can't, then accept that it just won't be secure, and your data won't be safe.

Q. So should I use a more up to date computer to do online banking and shopping then? A. Yes.

Q. Will my applications still work if I stick with XP? A. Yes, but only if you don't want to upgrade any of those either! Microsoft isn't the only company wanting customers to upgrade to new product versions, you know!

Q. If my XP computer has software problems, will they still be fixable? A. Probably. Independent support providers won't forget XP overnight, but they will get 'rusty'. I see the occasional Windows 2000 or Windows NT PC in our workshop, but when I do it's only oldies like me, who have hands-on experience of these products. Don't expect to find XP compatible drivers for new hardware either. If a part (e.g. graphics card) fails on an XP PC you may be offered only used parts.

So long XP! A great product of its time, yes, but 'so 2001'. Like the original iPod and the Mondeo Mk2 (and you know how out of date they look now...)

Scooter sur-prize!

Local scooter club the Cheeky Northern Monkeys are donating a trophy for the best machine at Silsden's Summer Jam music festival – after reading about the Show & Shine scooter display in the Aire Valley Magazine.

The club's 'Number 1' or leader, Ian 'Stubby' Stubbings from Silsden, was reading the article with interest. Not just because it was about his beloved scooters – but also because one of the organisers is his old school pal, Andy Conway. The two of them were in the same class at Holy Family School, Keighley, back in the day. But then something else caught Stubby's eye. One of the scooters in the picture – featuring Brighton-based My Little Scooter group - looked more than a little bit familiar. He said: "I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw the Frankenstein artwork on the scooter - I knew instantly it used to belong to one of our old members, 'Soggy Plug' (Andy Wardman) who sold it when he moved from Cross Hills to Orlando five years ago. How it's ended up in Brighton I've no idea.

"It's all part of the great buzz that's going on about the Summer Jam festival round here – and we wanted to do something to add to the fun – so we decided to donate a Show and Shine trophy."

The SummerJam weekend camping festival is on August Bank Holiday (Aug 22-24) on Riverside Fields, Silsden. There's a mod theme on the Sunday when mod hero Bruce Foxtan headlines with his band From the Jam and attractions include the Show and Shine – with enthusiasts invited to display their pride and joy machines.

Cheeky Northern Monkeys – one of hundreds of scooter clubs across the UK - have been together for around 14 years, enjoying rides and other scooter-related events. They meet on Thursdays at the Emmott Arms, in Laneshawbridge, and have members from Keighley, Silsden, Cross Hills, Skipton, Colne and Barnoldswick.

Other big news from the Summer Jam festival is that the chosen charity has been announced as Teenage Cancer Trust – which works to improve the quality of life and chances of survival for young people aged between 13 and 24 who are diagnosed with cancer.

Bands and attractions are still being added every month and we'll update you regularly in this magazine. Visit the festival website www.dirtyboyinc.com for more info. You can book on line or phone 07581 498817. Early bird weekend tickets, including weekend camping, are still available.

For more information about the Cheeky Northern Monkeys, phone Stubby on 0773 346 2156.

Keighley & Worth Valley Railway

The next few weeks are very important to the Railway as we mark two occasions that are very important to us: one is 'Go Local Sunday' on April 15, which is a chance for local residents (in the BD20/21/22 postcodes) to join us for a trip for free, so that they can enjoy the attractions on their doorstep and we can say thank you for your continued support.

As well as journey on the Railway, the Bronte Parsonage, East Riddlesden Hall, the Vintage Carriages Museum and others also open their doors for free to the local community and vintage 'bus transport is provided by the Keighley Bus Museum Trust. The Railway's Preservation Society was established over fifty years ago by local people who didn't want their local service to be lost, which is why recognising the important of the community around us is so important and why we are so keen to support the 'Go Local' initiative.

The second event is our annual Railway Children weekend 3-5 May. When the film was released in 1970, passenger numbers soared, resulting in us having to build the passing loop at Damems that allows us to operate two passenger trains at once and so we were literally able to double capacity to cope with demand. Over forty years later, we know that the iconic family film continues to be a favourite of many of our passengers as they ask to be shown Three Chimneys and the location of Mr Perks' office and cottage. The film is very dear to my heart, because after watching it every Christmas from a very young age (and I still try to now!) it's the reason I was so keen to get involved with the Railway when I moved to Oxenhope many years ago. We celebrate the film during our special Railway Children weekend during which passengers can enjoy recreations of key scenes from the film, take a guided tour of the main location for the film, Oakworth Station, and travel in some of the vintage carriages that were used in the film itself.

Dr. Matt Stroh Chairman of KWVR

We hope to see you at one of these events, or on any weekend that we are running trains. If you live in BD20/21/22 you can apply for a Local Resident's Railcard, giving discounted travel on all normal services.
