February is here. You have made it through January; that is something! And if you turn the page you will find that the Hawthorn Restaurant in Haworth have a cosy drink offer to cheer you up this month. The house red is particularly tasty. (Certain conditions apply) It's a little incentive to book a table and enjoy a meal together at this new restaurant.

The Bronte Parsonage Museum re-opens its doors to the public. It is the bicentennial year of Emily Bronte's birth, and the calendar is packed with events and happenings to suitably celebrate the occasion. Don't miss your exclusive FREE ADMISSION VOUCHER on page 17, 'Let me in I'm Local.' Cut it out and save it for the day of your choice throughout the year.

This month also marks the beginning of a new themed column with the Bronte Parsonage, 'A History of the Museum in 10 objects.' Chloe Simm, the Museum

Manager, sets the tone for the series.

This is also a special year for the Keighley & Worth Valley Railway, they celebrate their 50th Anniversary. But before that, don't miss the opportunity to take your family to see everyone's favourite, Paddington Bear; this month on February 14th & 15th.

Other options for the school holidays include East Riddlesden Hall with a number of activities to keep your kids happy this month; see page 29.

Back by popular demand is local coach company, Steel's spring excursion to the Isle of Man, including 6 days with a busy itinerary and taking in all the best sights.

Manorlands have a number of events planned over the next few months...get your running shoes on and keep fit while supporting a worthy cause. (p20) Have a fabulous February! Liz

Explore Britain's Isles with Steels of Addingham, Specialists in Coach Holiday Tours

Isle of Man, and the famous Laxey Wheel

Isle of Man April 20th to 25th

This is a gem of an island with so much history and old traditions and, of course, abounding with affluence dispersed amongst glorious flora and fauna.

Known aptly as the 'Ancient Kingdom.' There are immense opportunities circumnavigating this intriguing awesome terrain but rest assured you will be satisfied with our attention to detail and expertise taking in the island's 224 square miles in a nutshell over our adequately timed stay – You will note that our tour is 6 days, not the usual 5.

Incorporating over your visit the famous Snaefell Mountain railway, Manx Electric Rail and Steam Railways and you can also enjoy free time in Port Erin, Douglas and Laxey amongst many more places of interest. Of course, the famous Laxey Wheel is the iconic landmark of the island. We are accommodated in Ramsey (new boutique hotel - popular with our returning customers) this will be our Fourth stay here with unparalleled views over the Cumbrian Fells and coastline.

THE HAWTHORN

103 Main Street, Haworth, BD22 8DP www.thehawthornhaworth.co.uk 01535 644477

The Hawthorn is a Georgian gem in the heart of Haworth, packed full of period features, offering a relaxed environment with cosy log fires to unwind with friends and family. Once the home of John Barraclough, Clockmaker to the Brontë's, this warm and appealing gastropub has been renovated throughout to showcase an array of local antiques - including several of his clocks.

We serve only food made using the freshest seasonal British produce and our menu changes through the weeks to reflect this. All our meat is sourced direct from small farms across the Yorkshire Dales and the Lake District and our fish is freshly delivered from our fishmonger in Hartlepool. Our custom-made Jospur charcoal grill is the hottest indoor grill available and used by the best restaurants in the country.

Beetroot & Chocolate Cake

Preparation time: less than 30 mins
Serves 8

Ingredients

- 200g/7oz butter, plus extra for greasing
- 250g/9oz cooked and peeled beetroot
- 200g/7oz dark chocolate (70% cocoa)
- 4 tbsp hot espresso
- 135g/5oz plain flour
- 1 heaped tsp baking powder
- 3 tbsp cocoa powder
- 5 free-range eggs, separated
- 190g/6½oz golden caster sugar
- crème fraîche or double cream, to serve

Method

1. Preheat the oven to 180C/350F/Gas 4.
2. Grease a 20cm/8in cake tin with a little butter and line the bottom of the tin with a disc of baking parchment.
3. Blend the beetroot in a food processor to a rough purée.
4. Melt the chocolate in a bowl suspended over a pan of hot water (do not allow the - bottom of the bowl to touch the water], then pour in the hot coffee.

5. Stir in the butter in small pieces and leave to soften. Remove from the heat and allow to cool slightly.
6. Meanwhile, sift the flour, baking powder and cocoa together in a bowl and set aside.
7. Separate the eggs. Whisk the yolks in a bowl until frothy. Stir the eggs into the chocolate and butter mixture, then fold in the beetroot.
8. Whisk the egg whites until still peaks form when the whisk is removed. Fold in the sugar.
9. Fold the sugar and egg whites into the chocolate mixture, then fold in the flour and cocoa mixture.
10. Pour the batter into the prepared tin and bake for 40 minutes, or until a skewer inserted into the cake comes out clean.
11. Allow to cool in the tin, then serve with crème fraîche or double cream.

Inside Keighley Library

by Antony Silson

As a Primary School teacher, I can tell you, without a shadow of a doubt, that reading is the key to education and the gateway to different cultures, ideas and experiences. Here in Keighley we have the very first library in the country to be funded, in 1899, with a grant from Andrew Carnegie. Carnegie was one of the richest men the world has ever known, with a personal fortune equivalent to £310 billion in today's money. He was a man of contradictions and thought nothing of slashing his workers' pay by 30%, whilst on the other hand giving away huge sums of money to build libraries to educate and further the prospects of a working class hungry for knowledge.

Keighley Library continues to reinvent itself with visits from music groups, local radio stations and authors. It is still providing books, DVDs, has internet access and a comprehensive local history section. Who in Keighley hasn't heard the name Ian Dewhirst and marvelled at his commitment to recording and reviving Keighley's history? A simple visit up those famous stairs that most of us must pass a couple of times a week, gains entrance to a world of knowledge where the staff radiate enthusiasm and a commitment to helping residents find exactly what they are looking for. The design of the building lets light flood in and one can actually feel the generations of people who have come in looking for that book that may have led them onto greater things, a new hobby or a visit to a place that filled them with wonder and amazement. Wednesdays and Saturdays are when the Library welcomes its youngest visitors with Story, Rhyme and Craft times from 11am to 11.45. Mick Curtin, a retired Headteacher, is a regular visitor with his grandchildren. "It is a perfect opportunity for children to both develop a love of books, hold something special that has taken a long time to create and meet new friends". In a World where we are removed further and further from actual human interaction, where you can have a book delivered to your home without speaking or seeing anyone face to face, a visit to Keighley Library is a real tonic, you might even come home with a pile of books.

Contact the library on 01535 618 218 or email keighley.library@bradford.gov.uk. The library is open Monday to Friday; 9am to 7 pm, and from 9am to 5pm on Saturdays.

On 29th June, 1968, at 2.35pm, the first train run by the Preservation Society left Keighley station bound for Oxenhope. The locomotives were in a special KWVR livery, because British Rail were still running trains on the mainline (although not on the reopening day, because they were on strike!) and we had to differentiate our trains from theirs. The train travelled past an Ingrow that was in a sorry state after it had been disused for many years, through the crossing gates at Damems and Oakworth, to Haworth and on to Oxenhope. That achievement marked the start of the journey to what you can enjoy today, with trains running every weekend and daily in school holidays throughout the year. In the early days, the Railway was reopened because the vital transport link would otherwise be lost. With the filming of 'The Railway Children' and its release in 1970, and its release in 1970, however, we welcomed passengers from all over the country who wanted to see the location and so dawned our reinvention at a tourist destination.

Since the reopening, we have worked hard to restore all the stations to their former glory, with us reinstating the station buildings at Damems based on vintage photographs of the location and we actually brought a building stone-by-stone from Foulridge to Ingrow to bring the station back to life. Fifty years later we can use the more prototypical colour scheme on the locomotives and carriages, which reflects our role in keeping such an important part of heritage alive, and are working hard to improve our explanation of the history of the line, exemplified by our partnership with the Bahamas Locomotive Society and Vintage Carriages Trust who together with us form RailStory at Ingrow. There's so much else that has been achieved, with a fleet of locomotives and carriages that are capable of hauling the much longer trains we now need to cope with the number of passengers that we convey; the fully-restored stations; and the infrastructure and engineering facilities we need to maintain the rolling stock, structures and track. This year we want to celebrate the achievements of our volunteers over the five decades since we reopened. We are really keen to capture the stories and memories of the early days of the railway's operation, so if you do remember the reopening, or even the period of activity before that special day in mid-1968, we would love to hear from you. In the summer we will be having a week-long celebration of the last 50 years, launching with the visit of 'Royal Scot' Monday 25th, Tuesday 26th and Wednesday 27th June. In 1965, one of the first locomotives to arrive at Haworth was 'Scots Guardsman' and at the time the loco was considered too large for the railway's needs, so never ran passengers trains. Fifty years later, we do run trains regularly that justify the power of the Scot, and it will be great to see an example of this class running on the branch for the first time. Bookings are now open on the website for this special occasion, and further details of other events during the week will be released shortly.

Brontë Parsonage Museum at 90

A History of the Museum in 10 Objects

thousands of visitors from Haworth, Yorkshire and across the world. The excited crowds looked on as Sir Roberts handed over the title deeds of the Parsonage to the Brontë Society President, Sir Edward Brotherton. Lady Roberts officially marked the next phase in the Parsonage's history by using a golden key to open the front door before being presented with flowers from the crowd. The Presentation Key used on the day was donated to the Museum in 2016 by Sir James Aykroyd, the great-grandson of Sir James Roberts and current trustee of the Brontë Society, and is now part of the Museum collection.

1 Photograph of crowds at the opening of the Museum, August 1928.

As we prepare to reopen the Museum for Emily's bicentenary year, it seemed fitting for the first object in this series to be the picture of the crowds who turned out when the Museum first opened its doors on 4 August 1928. This photograph is probably the most iconic taken that day, and depicts a mass of excited visitors, dressed head to toe in their best clothing, queuing desperately to glimpse inside the former residence of the Brontë family.

Haworth Parsonage was purchased and gifted to the Brontë Society by local resident and owner of Salts Mill, Sir James Roberts, who made his fortune in the textile industry. Sir James also provided the funds for renovation work which transformed the Parsonage from a residence into the museum we know today.

The opening ceremony of the Brontë Parsonage Museum was attended by Sir James' generous donation proved pivotal in the Brontë Society's history. It allowed the Society to expand its collection of Brontëana and fed the public's desire to view personal possessions once owned and used by the famous family. It enabled the Bonnell Collection to be transported from America in 1929 following the death of Henry Bonnell, a prolific private collector of Brontëana and provided a lot more space to display the museum collection.

The public's fascination with the Brontës and the desire to know more about the family and the building that they once called home was as evident in 1928, as it is now. So many of our visitors tell us how moved and privileged they feel to have visited the Parsonage and throughout 2018 we look forward to welcoming both new and returning visitors to share in our special year-long celebrations.

Popular training courses & free advice sessions to help you grow your business

All of the below courses and advice sessions will be held at Airedale Enterprise Services, Sunderland Street, Keighley BD21 5LE

Free Digital Marketing training with Google Digital Garage - This Free online training course will help you understand different digital marketing techniques and help you to improve your digital marketing skills.

Course runs for 2 hours 10am - 12 noon on one of the following dates:-
Monday 5th Feb, 5th March or 26th March

Is your PC causing you problems? Why not bring it down to the Techie Fairy at Airedale Enterprise Services on Monday 5th Feb, 5th March or 26th March.

We are offering FREE half-hour slots available, (either to book in advance or turn up on the day) where you can bring your Windows laptop or desktop PC along for our Techie Fairy Christine Carlton to take a look at if you're having problems. If it's a desktop PC don't worry; we will have a monitor, mouse and keyboard that should fit almost any machine.

If Christine can fix your problem in your half hour slot, then that's it, nothing to pay. If she diagnoses a problem that may require further time and/or parts, then you will be given an idea of the cost with no obligation to have the work done. To book a place please email general@techiefairy.co.uk

Brand New Course - Photography for Business

Tuesday 6th Feb, 20th Feb or 13th March 10am - 2pm
Cost £50 plus VAT Course delivered by Charles Waller Photography.

An introduction to the value of the photographic image in a business environment. This workshop is ideal for any business that wants to learn how to make photography work to promote your products or services.

You will have the opportunity to have a "hands on" experience using professional camera and lighting equipment. If you have your own camera (even mobile phone camera) bring it along and learn some tips.

To book, call 01535 607775 or email lynnehenry@airedaleenterprise.org.uk

Free Sales & Marketing Surgery

Pop along and have a chat with our resident marketing guru - Philip Gwynne from the Naked Marketing Company. If you would like a professional opinion on your marketing strategy? Or if you're having problems with sales? Or need some practical help with an email campaign, or want to know how to obtain "free advertising" through the use of PR, or need help with social media marketing?

It's free, there's no obligation and what you do with the advice (if anything!) is entirely up to you. Sessions available on Thursday 18th January, 15th February, 15th March or 12th April.

To book a place please contact Philip direct philip@philipgwynne.co.uk

SMITHY'S TECH TIPS

By Liam Smith

BANDWIDTH BENEFITS

Most of us have encountered the 'spinning wheel of buffering' when online, and for some, it's an all too familiar recurring predicament. For those who are spared this particular frustration, sometimes simply the available bandwidth is insufficient to meet your demands and everything is just waaaay toooooo slooooo. At the end of the day, when all is done and it's time to put your feet up to watch a movie, or play a game, freeze frame or the dreaded spinning wheel is the last thing you want to see.

Broadband is finally playing catch-up to our requirements, the horizons have widened exponentially with regards to what services are available.

Having a larger bandwidth enables for a seamless experience with services that utilise streaming. Streaming is essentially listening to music or watching a video in 'real time', instead of downloading a file entirely and watching it later. This includes music via Spotify, movies and TV shows from Netflix and Amazon, catch-up services like BBC iPlayer and ITV Hub, faster download speeds for data including emails and attachments, a lower latency for gaming to reduce lag, and using VOIP (internet based calls) with applications like Skype and FaceTime. In this digital era, a larger bandwidth isn't just added convenience to your everyday life, it's a necessity!

But do you sometimes feel left out? First establish what you are actually receiving in terms of speeds. This normally varies depending on when you do the test, but it is a good indicator and a baseline to work from.

Try this speed test survey:

<http://fibrevally.net/speed-survey/>

Fibre Valley is a local group working to bring high speed broadband to the region, especially those hard to reach locations like Stanbury, Oldfield, Oxenhope, and the upper valley farms. It has been a frustrating campaign with a few successes and many barriers along the way.

Note your speeds. (download & upload) Most connections are designed to download much faster than they upload, since the majority of online activity, like loading web pages or streaming videos, consists of downloads. Download speed is measured in megabits per second (Mbps). The upload speed is how fast you send data from you to others.

Here is what it currently looks like for a home in Stanbury. (Pretty poor actually)

But there is hope on the horizon. Between the wireless solutions like Boundless Network which is currently being installed in local homes and businesses, and the long promised BT fibre solutions, you should soon have options that will put an end to that annoying symbol...

Let your provider know if you are receiving sub-standard connections and look elsewhere if the problem persists.

Cold February by Hal Summers

Winter is boring now,
His news is cold,
His hoary anecdotes
Too often told.

For his bad manners we
Made youth the excuse once;
Now in his latter days
He's just a nuisance.

Another season stands
Ready to relieve him;
He's only to be gone
And we'd forgive him,

Even think kindly of him
Finding he's left
A snowdrop morning
As a parting gift.
