The November Worth Valley Mag is bursting at the seams! We had several late bookings which caused me think various traders are making a big effort on the run up to Christmas despite the credit crunch. Alfe's special Christmas Party Offer closes soon so don't delay if you want to secure your free bottles of wine or a 10% discount! (p.39)

The Green Room and The Sugar Room are both hosting special events and will provide festive shopping and pampering opportunities.

We weren't able to fit all the community events in this month but you can view your village websites for more details. It looks like we will need to add more pages next month to accommodate all the happenings of the Worth Valley.

James St. Claire of JSC Plumbing and Heating adds Corgi LPG Approved Certification and an Energy Efficiency badge to his list of qualifications.

"Now is the perfect time to book an annual LPG service for campers and caravans."

With eleven years experience under his belt, James St. Claire of JSC Plumbing and Heating isn't content to sit back and rest on his laurels. "There is always something new to learn or changes in regulations to be aware of; I am committed to staying on top of the latest schemes and quality standards," James affirmed. "One example is the government wants five million High Efficiency Condensing boilers to be installed by 2010. As these boilers can use up to 35% less gas, you can imagine the savings that could be made for both the environment and the nation's fuel bill if we can all meet this challenge."

As a UK installer James will have a vital role to play in making this objective a reality, and in order to help achieve this, he has gained a new accreditation in Energy Efficiency for Domestic Heating. Equipped with this knowledge, James can assess heating appliances (boilers, gas fires, etc.) and recommend energy efficient solutions to suit each application.

More recently James has qualified to repair, replace and service LPG appliances including those found in permanent dwellings, LAVs (Leisure Accommodation Vehicles) and Static Caravans or Residential Park Homes. With the Worth Valley being a popular holiday destination, JSC has plenty of experience assessing rented properties and holiday lets for the purpose of Landlord Certificates. The new accreditation helps JSC provide an even wider range of services for both commercial and domestic customers.

James is a resident of Oakworth and is available for general plumbing and heating related call outs. For help and advice from a trusted local professional call James at JSC. 01535 211787 (9am-5pm) mobile: 07832 374208

Top Tips

- Have your cooking and heating appliances, flues and chimneys serviced at least once a year by a suitably trained, reputable, registered engineer.
- Fit an audible carbon monoxide alarm that meets European Standard EN50291.
- Keep rooms well ventilated when using an appliance, and stop using an appliance if you think it may be giving off carbon monoxide gas.
- If you suffer from symptoms like food poisoning, viral infections, flu or simple fatigue and think they could be caused by carbon monoxide, see your doctor at once and say you suspect it might be carbon monoxide poisoning. It is better to be safe than sorry.

It's a "Wonderful Life" was the theme of Firth's autumn/winter fashion show this year. A generous £2260 was raised for Marie Curie cancer care.

Many Thanks to: Greenwood's Menswear, Passion & Silverland, Sally at Viva hairdressers, and all the other local businesses and individuals who helped to make the event a success.

Nikki from Firth's would also like to express her gratitude to her customers for their continued support.

WINED & DINED

BY CLAIRE SMITH

I probably shouldn't encourage it; falling under a seductive spell of mellifluous sweetness is after all terribly bad for you. Maybe I shouldn't mention honeycombed sweetmeats that melt on the tongue, or tantalisingly smooth chocolate, or the clouds of spun sugar that threaten to lead one astray; but we are only days away from the carnival atmosphere of bonfire night- crackling flames, roman candles and Catherine wheels; candy-floss, fudge and toffee apples; the scent of frying sausages and mounds of caramelised onions, potatoes baking slowly in the glowing embers of the fire, and pockets stuffed with sweet temptations.

When the air outside is cold and crisp, the sensation caused by the creamy embrace of a soft caramel pillow or the deep, crumbly butteryness of fudge is hard to resist. Though I find it difficult to decide just where my allegiance lies when it comes to choosing between the two, fudge definitely has the edge for me. Both are mouthwateringly creamy, but caramel can cause havoc if it gets wedged in your teeth, whereas a satisfying square of gloriously golden fudge melts slowly and sexily, possessing a crystalline fragility when in the mouth. It does need to be freshly made though; beware of fudge that is loaded with too many extras; if the sell by date says, "consume this century"; don't bother.

From the smooth sophistication and dreaminess of fudge and caramel (butterscotch and treacle toffees fall into the same category) one might naturally progress to the ethereal realms of honeycomb, or cinder toffee as it is otherwise known. The alchemy involved in the process of making honeycomb lends an air of mystery to this sweet volcanic eruption. Covered in milk chocolate it is even better; exploring its secret labyrinths through a veil of melting chocolate makes it the champagne experience of the toffee world; the fact that it is so quick and easy to make only adds to the allure.

November brings an abundance of crisp apples to be coated and enjoyed by children and adults alike, and nights when the air will be filled with the sweet scent of waffles, doughnuts and clouds of pink candyfloss, but if you wish to take the sweet element of your bonfire night celebrations to a new level of sophistication try making your own sweet treats and presenting them in pretty boxes or tins to pass around the bonfire; clusters of fruit and nuts embedded in chocolate, and honey and nut chocolate tuiles to accompany steaming mugs of hot chocolate; cubes of soft buttery fudge to serve with coffee, strips of white chocolate "bark", studded with apricots, macadamia nuts and raisins and bite size cubes of ginger cake and treacle sponge. Sweet morsels that help to release the inner child whilst fireworks pepper the skies with shimmering colour and dancing light.

WEBSITE OF THE MONTH

By now you're probably racking your brains what to buy your kids or younger relatives for Christmas. Our Website of the Month may be the answer! Gogoblin enables children and teenagers to make free and secure online wish lists for Christmas, birthdays etc. .

When the list is ready they can send parents and friends an email telling them where to find their wishlist. Parents can help younger children browse the carefully selected shops on the site for gift ideas. Gogoblin gives 10% of all purchases spent in their store to children's charity World Vision. There's also a handy guide to this year's must have presents. (This year it's Baby Born with Magic Potty!)

20% DISCOUNT ON ALL TREATMENTS BOOKED ON THE DAY

Sugaring - The Sweet Way To Smoothness

The Ancient Art of Sugaring dates back over 4,000 years and is a completely natural and safe form of semi-permanent hair removal. Sugaring is considered to be less aggressive than waxing, as the sugar paste is applied at body temperature by hand, and adheres only to the hair; not the skin. The results will last 4 - 6 weeks depending on the strength of the re-growth and skin will be left feeling soft and silky.

Beauty Treatments Available:-

"Keith gave me lots of confidence coming up to my test.

Keith Hughes

I passed of course!"

You may recognise Keith Hughes. He is a resident of Oakworth and an active member of the local community. Keith is also an experienced teacher and a fully qualified ADI (Approved Driving Instructor). With bags of teaching experience and the patience of a saint he is the ideal choice for getting you (or your teenager) through the toughest test of all...your driving test!

Keith's Driving School offers individualised lessons to suit every type of learner: For the teenager or young adult who is getting behind the wheel of a car for the very first time Keith's experience and expert approach will put everyone at ease. Lesson upon lesson Keith will help you gain skills and confidence in your driving ability. Honest and fair assessments will help you decide when you're ready for your test. Each lesson is fully dedicated to your driving needs and a log sheet is provided so that you can track your progress.

Are you someone who has long since passed your driving test but could benefit from a brush up on your driving skills? Refresher driving lessons are ideal for people who want to improve their driving skills to drive safely and with confidence. They are suitable for people who have passed their driving test but have not driven regularly since, or perhaps need to drive on a more regular basis than they are used to.

Keith is currently offering a FREE starter pack* (Worth £25) to all beginners who block book 5 lessons at a cost of £95 (£19 per hour). If you prefer to Pay as You Go, the cost is £20 per hour. Block bookings of 10 lessons are £180 - taking 2 hours at a time. When you recommend a friend you can earn further discounts if they take lessons with Keith too. (All block bookings are payable in advance.)

Keith offers flexible pick up and drop off locations and he doesn't ask you to pick up the next student!

*Starter pack includes a copy of the Highway Code, an assortment of books and a CD-Rom to help you prepare for your Theory Test at home. Call to book today! 07940 918995

MUSIC ON THE BRAIN

Karen Davidson, of Kindermusik examines claims that music gives babies the best start in life

It's only been since the 1990's that scientists have been able to study what happens to the brain when a person listens to or performs music.

Music causes increased activity in many parts of the brain, which assists development and growth in many key areas – and apparently the younger the exposure, the better.

Scientific studies have shown that music stimulates early development in those parts of the brain responsible for cognitive behaviours; reasoning; language; intellect; verbal abilities; motor functions and physical body movements, balance and co-ordination; emotional development; the processing of sound and visual information; social skills; creativity; and memory.

It's fascinating that research has found that infants are predisposed to aspects of music such as tone, melody and rhythm. Studies have shown that babies come into the world with musical preferences and begin to respond to music while still in the womb. At the age of 4 months, clashing notes at the end of a melody will cause them to squirm and turn away. If they like a tune, they will be comforted.

In infants "learning occurs through movement and quick emotional associations; by age 2 the brain has begun to fuse with the body via marching, dancing, and developing a sense of physical rhythm... The more music children are exposed to before they enter school, the more deeply this stage of neural coding will assist them throughout their lives," - Don Campbell.

Sticky Caramel Pecan Cakes

Ingredients:

- 175 g butter (do not substitute margarine)
- 55 g toasted pecans,
- 175 g plain flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 175 g light soft brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Sifted icing sugar, for sprinkling (optional)
- Sliced bananas, to serve (optional)
- 1 bag soft chewy toffees
- small tub of single cream

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 180°C/fan 160°C/Gas 4.
2. lay out paper cases on baking tray
3. Microwave butter, loosely covered, on HIGH 1-1 1/2 minutes or until melted, stirring after every 30-second interval; set aside to cool.
4. Toast pecans on a tray in the top of the oven for a few minutes until crisp. Allow to cool and finely chop pecans

5. Add brown sugar, eggs and vanilla extract to melted butter; whisk until combined.

2. Add the rest of the ingredients and fold together until combined (do not over-mix).

Place one scoop of mixture into each well of prepared pan, dividing mixture evenly. Bake 18-22 minutes or until edges of cakes are golden brown.

Remove from oven; cool 5 minutes in pan. Carefully invert cakes onto Stackable Cooling Rack; dust with sifted icing sugar. For toffee sauce, simply melt the toffees and half of the cream together in the microwave on a medium high heat, stirring every 30 seconds until creamy and melted.

Arrange five banana slices in a circle in centre of each serving plate, place 2 cakes on each and top with toffee sauce!

These look fantastic made in the Pampered Chef floral silicone baking pan. You dont need paper cases, nothing will stick, and the cakes come out in beautiful flower shapes - perfect for parties!
